Champion Basketball Teams Honored At Kiwanis Yesterday

Dud DeGroot, athletic coach at San Jose State college, was the speaker at the Kiwanis meeting Tuesday and the high school basketball squads, 1932-33 champs, with Coach Ralph E. Noddin, were the honored guests in recognition of their prowess on the courts.

Mr. DeGroot took as his theme the ideals of good sportsmanship as developed through the athletic contests and team play. If there is one thing more than another that recommends the sports side of education it is the development of this ideal of fair play and honest effort to excel.

Carl B. Field acted as chairman and made appropriate remarks of the players and the game.

The following were the members of the squads present as guests:

On the unlimited team was, Francis ("Fran") Pryor, captain and center, who made 109 points during the season; Murry ("Red") Cook, forward, 107 points; Vincent ("Butch") Buccellato, forward, 90 points; Byron Bollinger, forward, 30 points; Fred ("Hawk") Hocking, guard, 17 points; Joseph ("Red") Ruscigno, guard, 17 points; Albert ("Al") Tedesco, guard; Edward ("Bozo") Stojanovich, forward; Ralph ("Fat") Pilgram, forward; Theodore ("Jo") Johanson, center; Wilfred ("Fat") Hall, guard; Lowell ("Miler") Andrews, guard; Richard ("Dick") Morton, manager; and Ralph ("Foxy") Noddin, coach.

On the 130-lb. team those present were Melvin (De) DeSelle, captain, forward, who made 84 points during the season; Joe Condensa, forward, 90 points; Hugh (Cram) Cramer, 60 points, center; Julio (Jerry) Condensa, guard; Robert (Wings) Mattush, guard; Verlyn (Lefty) Fellman, guard; Joe (Fish) Fisci, guard; Joe Bloom, forward; Bryan Hall, forward; Robert (Ben) Brooks, guard; Theodore (Spring-Toes) Knopf, center; Gene Lear, guard; William Halley, guard; Robert James, guard; Sabatino (Sab) Marrone, forward; Robert Brydon, forward; and Robert (Kanoppers) Knopf, manager.

John Lynden will speak of his visit to Ireland and will show moving pictures of the trip at the next meeting of the Kiwanis club. Jim Dempsey will act as chairman.

P. G. & E. MEN TELL FIRE BOYS HOW TO BEAT GAS FLAMES

Local fire department members and officials learned the details of fighting gas fires at their meeting Monday night, when P. G. and E. chiefs, Robert H. Hargraves, division manager, and C. C. Burns spoke to them.

A valve, which the P. G. and E. installs with every home gas service, and which makes it possible to shut off the service in that home, was described to the fire fighters. Special tools are necessary to open the cover for the valve, which is deep under the ground, and to shut off the gas. These tools were demonstrated by the P. G. and E. men, and will be provided for the Campbell fire equipment.

CAMPBELL WATER CO. REPORT SHOWS LOSS FOR 1932

The Campbell Water company has just made its annual report to the state railroad commission which shows a loss for the year 1932, amounting to $2,936.71. This means that holders of the 1,000 shares of common stock made a loss of $2.93 per share.

Loss was mainly due to reduction of revenue in both irrigation and domestic accounts; also short runs last summer in our canneries and factories.

Costs were increased due to the fact that there was extra expense in pumping water, the level of which is rapidly lowering.

Cass Demonstrates Visual Education At Meet of Local P.T.A.

George T. Cass, county superintendent of visual education, entertained the members of the Campbell grammar school P. T. A. at their regular meeting in the school Tuesday afternoon with a demonstration of the work of the visual education division.

Miss Dorothy Merriman's class participated in the demonstration; moving pictures were displayed as an illustration of the work also.

Everyone was much diverted by a clever little dance given during the meeting by Betty Jane Jurras, who gave the "Mickey Mouse" dance, accompanied by her sister, Geraldine Jurras.

During the business meeting presided over by Mrs. Harry Rediker, plans were made for a card party to be held the 31st of March or sometime in April.

It was announced that $37 was cleared on the Friendship dinner given recently by the P. T. A. It was also announced that the nominating committee would be appointed by the executive committee during this month.

Miss Dorothy Merriman's class won the attendance prize.

The meeting of the sixth district of the P. T. A. at Stanford university April 3 and 4 was announced to the members.

Rebekahs Visited By District Deputy President Mrs. Carter

Mrs. Irene Carter, district deputy president of district No. 3, visited the local Ada Rebekah lodge at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The committee in charge of the evening included Mrs. Al Bulmore, Mrs. Earl Eddlemon, Mrs. W. C. Grizzle, Horace Lea, and Matthew Burns.

The meeting hall was gorgeous with many baskets of acacias. The dining room downstairs was decorated with scores of yellow daffodils. The committee served spicy potato salad, rolls, and coffee.

Campbell will act as host to the El Paradiso council of the P. T. A., which is made up of associations from Campbell, Los Gatos, Saratoga, Sunnyvale, and Lexington, in a meeting March 11 at 8 p. m. in the Campbell high school. Mrs. David Hibbs is president of the council.

Student Cast Does Excellent Work In Annual Senior Play

By Evelyn Voge

Campbell high seniors "took to the air" Friday night and conducted themselves in such a creditable manner that they furnished the audience of "The Sky Train" with a thrilling and entertaining production.

The entire action of the play, with the exception of a short prologue, took place in the passenger compartment of a giant dirigible, "The Sky Bird," flying above the Atlantic ocean, in a time a few years from now. The plot, which covered murders, projected bombings, and a mystical seance, was weird and exciting; most of the audience sat on the edge of their seats.

Leonora Johnson, as Sarnia Blair, "the woman of mystery," was a particularly outstanding character, with stage poise, a charming voice, and ability to act.

Richard Morton, playing the masculine lead as Lt. Larry Henley of the United States intelligence department, was a beguiling hero, winning his audience's sympathy as he trailed a mystery, braved wicked villains, and charmed his fair lady.

Philip Farley, who was Dennison Wolf, secret service man, proved himself a real actor when, with nonchalance and quiet humor, he helped solve the mystery.

Richard Pyle was quite a villainous villain and deserves approbation for taking a difficult part well, with only a week's preparation.

Infectious humor was furnished by Billy Rambo, plump little financier, and Gladys Nelson, a nerve-ridden matron; one talked too little and the other too much, but they discovered in each other affinities.

Robert Pomeroy gave a very commendable performance as Leslie Rawson, the worried radio operator who prattled too truly of death.

In fact, every actor in the cast did well, and proved the excellence of the trainer, Miss Jean McKinley.

The technical staff was noteworthy for the skill and quietness of its assistance. Not many of the audience will soon forget the realistic thunder pounded out by someone of the stage crew. Bill Halley was stage manager, ably assisted by Albert Tedesco, Vincent Tedesco, Frank Pregliasco, and George Italon.

Lulu Marie Caldwell was costume manager; the stage settings were made by Miss Dorothy Saunders and M. F. Hughes and their classes. Sylvia Best was script attendant.

Music was furnished by A. A. Thielke and the high school orchestra. They played "The Desert Song," "The New Moon," and "In a Persian Market."

The entire evening was a pleasurable one, although the audience was subjected to a pretty bit of propaganda in a play which made villains out of the revolting laboring class and which advised everyone to wait for the better times which may come as a result of the machinations of the great capitalists. Perhaps the propaganda was truth; perhaps not. We're waiting to see. But truth or no truth, "The Sky Train" was a dressed-up and dramatic advertisement of capitalism.

C. OF C. DISCUSSES LOCAT MATTERS AT INFORMAL MEETING

The reduction of railway train service through Campbell after March 15 was discussed, by members of the local chamber of commerce at an informal meeting Tuesday night.

Southern Pacific officials have said that daily morning and evening service to Santa Cruz from San Jose may be stopped after March 15, with trains running only on Saturday and Sunday. This would eliminate Campbell's present 9:45 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. trains.

It is also rumored that the Campbell station will be discontinued after the fruit season is over in the fall.

Mason-Jopson Nuptials In San Francisco March 5

Miss Claire Eleanor Mason, daughter of Mrs. Effie M. Mason, Casey road, was married to Charles A. Jopson Sunday, March 5, in the First Christian church, San Francisco, by the pastor, the Rev. Herbert Parker Shaw.

The wedding was a quiet one, since Miss Mason's father, W. C. Mason, had so recently died. Attending Miss Mason were her mother and her brother, W. H. Mason, San Francisco.

The charming bride wore a light grey suit, which harmonized with grey accessories; she carried a corsage of rosebuds and ferns.

The bride, who spent her girlhood in Campbell and Los Gatos, and who is a graduate of the Los Gatos grammar and high schools, has a large circle of friends in the valley who wish her happiness.

The groom is a graduate of the University of California. He resided for many years in Los Gatos, where his uncle was pastor of the Christian church, and he is very popular in the community.

After a honeymoon of several weeks the young couple will return for a short visit with Mrs. Mason and will then travel to Burlington, Washington, to make their new home.

Young Folks Direct Sunday Night Service At Methodist Church

The young people will take the pulpit in the local Methodist church this Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. according to the announcement of the Rev. C. E. Irons, pastor.

The Epworth league members, in cooperation with the Santa Clara County League alliance will give the evening's program.

The county league alliance will also take charge of the regular Epworth league meeting at 6:30 p. m.

Steve Merrill Now On Blue Monday Program

Local radio fans were pleasantly surprised last week to hear the voice of Stephen Merrill on the Golden State Blue Monday Jam-boree program over KFRC.

Mr. Merrill has reason to believe that he will become a permanent fixture on this program.

Mrs. Burke Speaks At Garden Progrm, Local Woman's Club

"Golden Gardens," (the title of a monthly publication by the California Garden Club Federation) was almost applicable to the community room Monday when the Country Woman's club met to enjoy a program on California gardens. Upon entering the door a "picture in yellow" met the eye and the perfume of hyacinths and acacia filled the air. Masses of acacia and huge bowls of giant daffodils typified the golden gardens, and a large jar of pussy willows, many of them the mammoth variety, added to the picture.

Mrs. Warren Shelley, one of the day's committee, was presented by the chairman, Mrs. J. C. Ainsley, and sang most effectively, "Leave It To Him" and "A Brown Bird Singing." The members greatly enjoying hearing Mrs. Shelley again, who is not often present since her removal to Ben Lomond. Mrs. F. V. Perrott was her accompanist.

Geraldine Lloyd, herself resembling a dainty yellow flower, in a long gown of yellow with a green sash, gave a garden dance, and then presented each lady with a lovely corsage of daffodils and sprays of flowers in pastel shades. Mrs. Roberts of the grammar school faculty played for the dance.

Mrs. Elizabeth Burke of Mountain View, chairman of the Garden section of the San Francisco district of the federation of women's clubs was the guest speaker and her talk was very interesting and helpful to amateur gardeners. Herself an enthusiastic home gardener, she has studied the subject from that angle and offered many practical suggestions on how, what and when to plant.

At the conclusion of her talk a plant exchange was conducted by the committee which included Mrs. J. F. Duncan and Mrs. A. B. Townsend, in addition to those previously named. Many of the members had contributed items from their gardens and the interchange and giving was enthusiastically participated in by members and visitors.

The meeting of March 20 will be a drama afternoon.

Current Comment

The present "bank holiday" gives editors a good chance to use the time-worn phrase: "We view with alarm . . ." But, strange to say, none of them are using it. Behind this reluctance to discuss the situation frankly lurks the last vestige of the veneration which has hitherto surrounded the banking profession in the mind of the man on the street.

It is to be hoped that the holiday will not greatly hamper subsequent banking activities. When the banks open, however, there is bound to be unfavorable reaction on the part of depositors—particularly those who have little at stake, but which little is apt to be their all.

Withdrawals will, we believe, be rapidly spent, and the benefits accruing to business therefrom may more than offset the temporary paralysis effected by the closing of the nation's banks.

Optimism is the best bet, anyway.

Adolph Hitler made the grade, in spite of our recent prediction to the contrary. He not only made the grade, but seems to have the Fatherland all done up in a gunny bag, with a big brown ribbon around the middle of it. The question is, to whom is he going to deliver it?

We'd cheerfully bet our remaining 30 cents that German capital gets the prize. On the other hand, he may keep it himself. He would like to, anyway, but whether he can or not is another question.

Japan continues its offensive against the heathen Chinese, putting to laugh the League of Nations. Alarmists see impending warfare between Japan and the United States, basing their contentions on the presence of the combined fleets at play in Pacific waters. Sounds fishy to us—but we've been wrong before.

How do you think former Governor C. C. Young would do as a candidate against Governor Rolph next year?

Well, it's being seriously considered by progressive Republicans who are seeking an opponent to groom for the race. Young is reported as willing, but his family isn't.

Bert B. Meek, director of public works in Young's administration, is also being boomed by the progressives. His running mate would probably be John R. Quinn, Los Angeles supervisor and former national commander of the American Legion.

Strangely enough, two of the persons most influential in blocking the Rolph recall were Young and Meek.

Quite a hornet's nest was stirred up by Vice President Kerr of the Security First National bank, Los Angeles, when he proposed that the 58 counties of California be consolidated into 27.

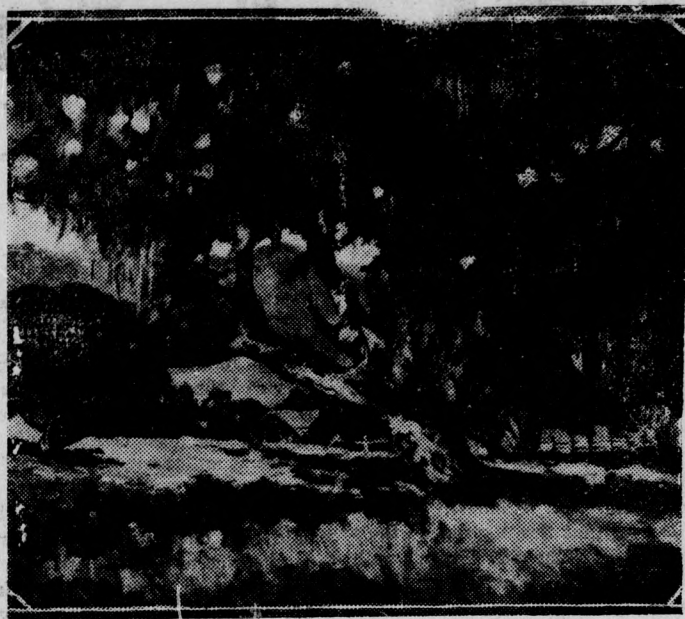

Kerr pointed out that consolidations would result in governmental economies, and disclosed the fact that the cost of county government mounted 645 per cent from 1911 to 1930.

Consolidation of governmental units is the order of the day. That it results in considerable saving to the taxpayer goes without saying.

There are a lot worse things than the loss of county autonomy. But try to get the large county groups to admit it.

Sierra Club Seeks Chapter in Campbell

Because of the recent interest shown in out-of-door activities, members of the Sierra club living in Santa Clara county are desirous of establishing a local chapter of the club. The executive committee of the Sierra club requires a petition of fifty members before granting the chapter; attempts are therefore being made to secure the membership of hikers in this part of the county who not only enjoy a walk in congenial company but also enjoy belonging to an organization such as the Sierra club of California.

The club invites all who are interested in its walks to join its members on any or all of a series of hikes to be taken during March and April. On March 19 a blossom trip will be taken with the San Francisco bay chapter. Hikers will meet at Glen Una between Saratoga and Los Gatos at 10:30 a. m.

Electric RANGES FOR Easier MEALS
that save you money... that taste better...

Simplified Cooking
BY ELECTRIC TIME CONTROL
BY ELECTRIC TEMPERATURE CONTROL

NO OTHER COOKING METHOD is so easy. Nothing complicated, nothing difficult to master. One needs but to set two simple automatic devices. Nothing to worry about because these automatic controls of time and temperature are electric controls, as quick and certain in action as the switch you click to turn on your electric lights.

No other cooking method is so certain. In fact, women who cook with an electric range forget a meal is being cooked in the range, so certain are they of its repeated time-after-time successes. Then, too, pots and pans and kitchen walls stay bright and new as though there were no stove in the kitchen.

Yes, the electric range makes actual cash savings on your food bills. Meat roasts, fish or fowl retain juicy tenderness with far less drying out. Actual food shrinkage is less, from 20 to 33 per cent—a fact reason why electric range cooking saves money.

See the 1933 models of electric ranges on display in our office or at your dealer's store. Note the finer finish and thicker insulation on the oven walls and doors of these ranges. You will be surprised at the lower prices on these finer quality products. Ask, too, about the easy purchase terms on these new electric range models.

THE FARMERS CORNER

By Ralph H. Taylor

Rigid economy to meet the needs of the taxpayers.

A highly-g geared program of departmental efficiency to maintain all essential services under a reduced budget.

And a strict policy of business-like protection and assistance for the farmer—free from politics!

Such, in effect, is the plan of administration mapped by A. A. Brock, newly-named director of the state department of agriculture. It is a clear-cut, fundamental program which augurs well for the future of the department and the industry which it serves.

Equally commendable is the fact that the director served notice of his new deal, not by an elaborate statement of what he proposed to do, but by doing it. One of his first steps was to recommend a heavy cut in his own salary, setting the pace for economy in the department as a whole. In quick succession he vacated several positions which he had catalogued as non-essential, and assumed, personally, the duties of chief of the division of plant industry.

If the new agricultural director carries on as he has started, both taxpayers and farmers will have cause to express their appreciation of an administration which recognizes the acute problems incident to the depression and seeks to meet them with sound business practice.

Director Brock, who started his farming career behind the plow at 12 years of age, brings to his difficult state position the advantage of 16 years' experience as a horticultural and agricultural commissioner in Ventura and Orange counties, in addition to a thorough grounding in practical farming.

Equally important, he has unquestioned integrity and a sincere desire to help agriculture.

Regardless of the past, Governor Rolph is entitled to the hearty commendation of California agriculture for accepting the recommendation of the state board of agriculture and naming Brock to the directorship. It was an industry appointment, rather than a political appointment, a policy made doubly important by the present crisis in the farming industry.

Of paramount importance to the agricultural industry, during the upheaval of recent weeks, was the fact that the state board of agriculture, headed by A. B. Miller, merited the full confidence of the industry and worked unselfishly for the welfare of the farmer and the farmer's department.

Recognizing that there is little chance of agriculture staging a comeback until there is a break in the depression, Director Brock feels that the most vital responsibility of the department at the present time is to help the farmer hold on until there is an upturn in economic conditions.

Once there is a trend toward recovery, declares the new director, California agriculture, due to the wide scope of its crops, will climb back to normalcy more quickly than any other farming section in the nation.

Producing practically every crop grown anywhere in the United States, California is in a position to make rapid adjustments, he asserts, and take prompt advantage of any improvement in world financial conditions.

Holding to his policy of drastic retrenchment to lessen the tax burden, Director Brock says that, "Our chief job, for the time being, will be to keep out plant and stock pests, control them if they get in, police our markets and bring about better understanding of how to market our crops."

Dr. Poytress, San Jose, Speaks Here

Discussing the report of a committee of economists, appointed by Pres. Herbert Hoover to study social conditions, which was published under the name, "Recent Social Trends," William Poytress, professor of economics at San Jose State college, addressed an audience at the Congregational church Sunday night.

The program was planned and put on by the members of the Christian Endeavor. The meeting was led by Stanley Edmonds, one of the group. Beautiful solos were given by Miss Muriel Crothers, soprano, and Elmer Sundquist, who played the slide trombone.

In his description of the United States committee report, Dr. Poytress listed the phases of economic life which it touched upon, including education, women in industry, the home, church, railroads and taxation.

Society will always have problems, according to Dr. Poytress, if it is not static or dead. Our American society is dynamic, and therefore has problems, many of which will be solved during our lifetime.

That economic conditions have changed very rapidly in the last 50 years, Dr. Poytress emphasized, pointing out that even in 1930 80 per cent of those employed in industry were in manufacture, agriculture or mining, while in 1930 only 50 per cent were so employed, with the new shift toward distribution and service activities.

"Government and law have not kept pace with economic conditions, however. Our system of government dates from the eighteenth century; our law belongs to the 17th century," averred the professor.

In the future, Dr. Poytress prophesied, the government will be more and more called upon to aid; even now the railroads and the unemployed are clamoring for governmental assistance. So the citizens must not complain of taxes, if they get full value for the money they put into taxes. Too many people think money paid out for costs of government might just as well be dumped into the Pacific ocean.

The church and home, which will be needed more than ever in our modern life, must adapt themselves to changing conditions, Dr. Poytress concluded.

California Has Few Illiterates, Survey Reveals

Sacramento, March 8—(CPS)—In California only 26 out of every 1,000 persons are unable to read or write. This is one of the lowest illiteracy records of any state in the Union.

Ten years ago 33 out of every 1,000 Californians were illiterate, according to Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan, who has just received results of a recent federal survey.

Of nearly 5,000,000 persons in the Golden State who are more than 10 years of age, the number unable to read or write is less than 125,000, the report showed.

In Santa Clara county were found 6,525 illiterate persons, or approximately 5.3 per cent of the county's population.

Development of the state's splendid education system is credited by Jordan for the marked drop in the illiteracy figure.

"California has the finest public schools in the United States," he declared. "The evening schools for adults have given many aliens seeking citizenship an opportunity to acquaint themselves with our language. I regard these adult schools as one of the most important phases of our educational system."

The great increase in persons classed as "other races" in the illiteracy total is due to fact that 10 years ago Mexicans, who now comprise 6.5 per cent of California's population, were for the most part classed with foreign-born whites or native whites of foreign and mixed parentage.

During the recent census they were given separate classification, Jordan explained. Now, however, they are included under the head of "other races."

Several states have lower illiteracy rates than California, but these do not border on a foreign country. The rate ranges from eight-tenths per cent in Iowa to 14.9 per cent in South Carolina.

Of the 4,283,753 illiterates in the United States, 2,407,218 are white, 1,513,892 were negroes, and the remainder placed under the general head of "other races."

Campbell is just a tank town now, having been relegated to that category by the Southern Pacific railway company which will, on March 15th, discontinue trains 33 and 34 from San Francisco to Santa Cruz via Campbell, except on Saturdays and Sundays, when they will pass through here as formerly.

On week days, however, these trains will leave San Francisco, and will turn off at College Park will pass through here as before.

Newspaper Men Encourage "Buy At Home" Campaign

Sacramento, March 8—(CPS)—Hats off to the newspaper publishers and printers of California. They are doing more than their share of encouraging "buy at home" campaigns, coupled with unemployment relief.

So declares Justus F. Craemer, co-publisher of the Orange Daily News, and president of the National Editorial association.

"Newspapers drive home to the public the necessity of patronizing home merchants as a means of minimizing unemployment, and see a veritable swarm of racketeers preying on local advertising appropriations," said Craemer.

"Novelty salesmen, feature stunts and a dozen other rackets take advertising funds from the local community. Printing goes to out-of-town shops while home presses stand idle and home pay-rolls disappear."

Corrective steps can be taken if the merchant is shown that the advertising dollar spent with the home newspaper is returned more directly into the community than any other dollar, he added.

Miss Elizabeth Mumma entertained several of her high school chums at two charming dinner parties recently. Her guests last Monday night were the Misses Barbara Kopp, Maxine Bouchard, and Frances Smith. On Friday night she welcomed Mabel Gilbert, Evelyn Bowsler and Edith Holbrook. WINTER SPORTS PROSPERITY BONDS ISSUED AT TRUCKEE

Truckee, Calif., March 8—(CPS)—Truckee has a new answer to the unemployment problem. She is issuing "Winter Sports Prosperity Bonds."

The bonds, printed in green and yellow, are shaped like the old-style paper dollar. Without exception, they are accepted by merchants as legal tender.

The user of the money is required to affix a 3-cent stamp on each $1 bond, and a 1 1-2 cent stamp on each 50-cent bond. Each bond has spaces for 36 stamps.

When the stamps are affixed, the chamber of commerce redeems the bond for its face value. The profit goes for printing. To date, $200 in bonds have been issued, which is expected to create $7,200 in trade for local merchants.
